Woodman, spare that tree!
Touch not a single bough!
In youth it sheltered me,
And I'll protect it now.
'Twas my forefather's hand
That placed it near his cot;
There, woodman, let it stand,
Thy axe shall harm it not!

When but an idle boy
I sought its grateful shade;
In all their gushing joy
Here, too, my sisters played.

My mother kissed me here;
My father pressed my hand –
Forgive this foolish tear,
But let that old oak stand!

My heart – strings round thee cling,
Close as thy bark, old friend!
Here shall the wild-bird sing,
And still thy branches bend.
Old tree! The storm still brave!
And, woodman, leave the spot;
While I've a hand to save,
Thy axe shall harm it not.

Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions 49 - 54.

Most Caribbean islands are affected by natural hazards. When they cause great loss of life and property they are then regarded as disasters. One such natural disaster which may affect the islands is a hurricane.

Hurricanes are expected each year during the months of June to November.
However, tropical storms and hurricanes may continue to develop and enter the Caribbean region as late as the month of November. Hurricanes are storms that get names. The first hurricane name starts with the letter A, and the names move through the alphabet as more hurricanes appear.

Tropical storms bring heavy rain and strong winds up to 112 kilometers per hour.
A storm becomes a hurricane when wind speed is greater than 112 kilometers per hour.
The centre of this swirling rising wind is calm. It is called the eye of the hurricane. The eye is like a hole in a doughnut and may be about 16-32 kilometers across. These strong winds and heavy rain can cause loss of life and property. The strong winds churn up great waves called storm surges, which cause severe destruction along coastal areas.

Hurricanes have been studied for many years yet no one is quite sure how they are formed. They need moist air and heat to start them and keep them going. They begin over the warm waters of the Atlantic Ocean during the summer months. Cooler air rushes in to replace the rising air. The spinning of the earth causes the rising air to spin or swirl as well. If you look at the water going out of a drain in a tub you see the same swirling motion. The winds swirl faster and faster as the storm moves over the ocean, producing a wall of thick clouds and rain. The winds in a hurricane become stronger as it moves over the warmer waters of the Caribbean Sea.

Most hurricanes tend to die out after hitting land. A few become strong again, especially if they pass over the sea once more. Others lose some of their strength and the wind speed decreases to that of a tropical storm.

Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions 55 - 60.

Jacob hated finishing things almost as much as he loved starting them. As a result, he had gotten into a million hobbies and activities, but he never stuck with any of them long enough to get any good. He begged his mother for months for a guitar. She finally got him one for Christmas. He took a few lessons, but strumming the strings hurt his fingers and he didn't like holding the pick, so now the five-hundred dollar guitar lives under his bed.

After reading an advertisement in the back of one of his comic books, Jacob decided that he wanted a metal detector, so that he could find buried pirate treasure. So he worked in a shop all summer and didn't spend his money. He saved it all in a shoe box in his closet. Then he looked after the neighbours' animals on weekends and he didn't spend his money on candy and chips. By the end of summer he had saved $200, and he purchased the metal detector. He beeped it around the park for a while, but he soon found out that no pirates had ever set sail in his neighborhood. Jacob buried the metal detector in his closet.

Given Jacob's history with hobbies, it was no surprise that Jacob's father was reluctant to buy him a magician's kit for his birthday. "Oh, Jacob… You sure you wouldn't rather I got you more guitar lessons?" Jacob was determined. "Dad, you've got to get me the magician's kit. This time I'll stick with it for real. I promise! Jacob's father sighed and then replied, "Oh, I don't know, Jacob. Things are awfully tight right now."

But Jacob's father was reminded of his own youth long ago, when he quit football and started karate practice. So when Jacob's birthday came around, Jacob was both surprised and pleased to find the magician's kit that he had desired so badly. Jacob opened up the box and unwrapped the many parts in the kit. As Jacob continued pulling plastic thumbs, foam balls, and giant playing cards out of the magic kit, an advertisement on the TV caught his attention.

"Hey kids! Have you ever wanted to go to space? Experience what it's like to be an astronaut? Do you want to explore the universe? Well, now you can." As the advertisement continued playing, Jacob walked away from the magic kit on the kitchen table and stared at the TV screen. "For only $195 you can go to space camp and live life like an astronaut for a whole weekend. Enroll now for a once in a life time experience." Jacob's cry rang throughout the house as he yelled, "MOM!" He now knew what his true purpose in life was.
